

Mountlake Terrace is a safe, walkable community with beautiful mountain views and active people full of community spirit.

Seattle Magazine rated Mountlake Terrace in the top 5 of 110 Best Neighborhoods in the Seattle region for its affordability, low crime rate, abundant parks, short commute times and high student test scores.

Economic development, sustainability, and a high quality of life are top priorities for Mountlake Terrace, which has adopted a strategy for encouraging green building, energy conservation and a sustainable economy. With a population of nearly 20,000, this residential haven is home to a growing number of businesses in the city's downtown core and surrounding shopping areas.

Mountlake Terrace offers a variety of recreational opportunities with more than 260 acres of parks and playfields. Scenic Lake Ballinger is a favorite spot for boating, fishing, and family picnics. A nine-hole golf course winds along the lakeshore, the Recreation Pavilion hosts a nationally acclaimed indoor swimming pool, and an Olympic-quality ice rink attract sports enthusiasts and visitors alike.

Community events include the Tour de Terrace summer festival with a Seafair-sanctioned parade and Arts of the Terrace annual juried art show, and National Night Out (NNO).
